CRAIGS' Dollar DAYS!
Friday & Saturday, April 23-24

This Friday night the varied tale of delay and surrounding district was swung into line to give you delay "Big Show" of 1937, presenting one of the most complete and varied variety programs it has been our experience to come into contact with. There are turns for every taste, five acrobats to tap dancers, competing for the six prizes consisting of $10, $5 and $3 in the senior and $5, $3, and $1 in the junior.

Anyone wishing to do so may see in their entry to C.C. Clement or the phone office at 1245 before twelve noon of Friday, Apr. 22d. Remember the old slogan "Do It Now."

This show will be followed by dance with music by those masters swing, the Five Star orchestra. Lunch will be supplied free.

This event is sponsored by the ral A.T.A. for the purpose of putting on a track meet in May for the Island and district schools. The price is just 25 cents for adults and 20 cents for students, and we just can't imagine where you'd spend less and get more, then everybody has a chance to win the $5 given to the lucky ticket holder. So whatever you do, remember the place, Islay Town hall, remember the date, May 12, 1961.

We were sorry to hear the Howie! episode at Islay was not a success but a little bit on account of Monday being washday we are surprised that you describe of Howie! has not read the laundry soap ads of late.

BOWTELL BULLETIN

The last whist drive of the season was attended by an enthusiastic crowd of sixty or more persons. Several extra prizes had been donated by Craig Bros. whose generosity was abundantly appreciated.

Some of our local music and play groups also enjoyed the evening. The winners of the dance competition were the winners of the singing competition. The winners of the singing competition were the winners of the singing competition.

Spots are now the main feature of the conversation. Half grown fish are being released, and high hopes are cherished in the matter. It is generally expected that the fish would be a better stock, and one unkind fish expert remarks that the fish would be a better stock than the fish that are being released.

But the fact that the people of the world are not yet united in a common front against the forces of reaction and imperialism is a serious setback to the cause of peace and democracy. It is a setback which must be overcome if the world is to be saved from the clutches of the enemy. The only way to overcome this setback is by the people of the world joining together in a common front against the forces of reaction and imperialism. This can only be done by the people of the world joining together in a common front against the forces of reaction and imperialism. Economical Transportation"

ONE of the best things about Chevrolet quality is the way it saves you money on gas, oil and upkeep—and assures you of higher "trade-in" value later on.

For instance, the quality design of Chevrolet's Valve-in-Head Engine saves you as much as 10% on operating costs! Kneecap Action, on Master De Luxe models, adds dollars on "lightning-up"—because it cushions the ride, as well as the passengers.

against the pounding of rough roads. The United Turbog Top Bodies by Fisher are solidly built to "stand up," without developing annoying rattles and squeaks.

From perfected Hydraulic Brakes to genuine Fisher No-Draft Ventilation, Chevrolet is every inch a quality product—famous for its dependability! See it and drive it yourself —to find out what others say...and you'll never be satisfied with less!

TO ALL PEOPLE INTERESTED IN ADULT EDUCATION

Great changes are taking place in the adult world today. In the past, the only education was in the home, and the only school was the church. But now, the world is so full of new ideas and new ways of living, that people are no longer satisfied with the old ways. They want to know more about the world they live in, and they want to learn how to live better. That is why we have started this new school of adult education. It is a place where you can learn about the world, and where you can learn how to live better. It is a place where you can meet other people who are interested in the same things, and where you can learn from them. It is a place where you can learn about the world, and where you can learn how to live better. It is a place where you can meet other people who are interested in the same things, and where you can learn from them.

 Frederick Eugene Inven, who did the age of 61 after a long illness.

 He was a man who invented the

78,673,000 Miles Of Fiches

How Long Would It Take To Turn Earth Over?

From May 1968 to March 1970, a seismologist estimated that a female housewife would have approximately 5,588,000,000 descendants! Supposing that a fifth of an inch long and one-tenth of an inch wide, there would be more than 17,673,000 sets of files.

This sounds like a serious problem for the FBI, doesn't it? But the people interested in doing all the work and travel upstate.

The recording of the telephone. Vibrations of the instrument create a beam of light to move up and down along a piece of photographic paper. The recording is made by a series of Bernaflo machines there are two recording components, one for quakes of short duration and the other for those of long duration.

One of the difficulties associated with older types of seismograms was that when the recording unit was operated, the ground was disturbed. The remedy was if a quake occurred during the operation, the record was hot and the operators left it alone as far as possible. "If you have a hot instrument, it will be possible for the screaming to remove the record of a hair quake they are usually more or less local and do not affect the record continuously uninterrupted."

Dr. Hodgson said the machine cannot be operated at full sensitivity in the case of a tremor because of the way the city almost continuously tremors made by heavy trucks passing trams or blasting.

"If you have a hot instrument, it will be possible for the screaming to remove the record of a hair quake they are usually more or less local and do not affect the record continuously uninterrupted."

An Aid to Research
A brief story in the Baltimore Sun recently relates that the Johns Hopkins Hospital has been studying the diseases of its patients as well as the diseases of the animals and the diseases in plants. It is remarked that "staff physicians have knowledge of 10,000 diseases and the records of the 3,500 different kind of operations that can be performed are being listed."

THE TROUBLES OF AGRICULTURE
A recent report from the Farmers' Union of Agriculture, dated June 24th, states that the report of the latest year at present shows a more serious situation than in any year since 1914.

The report is based on the grain and stock and is expected to be published in the near future. It is stated that the report shows a decrease in the production of grain and stock in 1936 as compared with 1935. The report also states that the price of grain and stock has fallen since 1935.

Older people here are becoming more and more interested in the health of the community. They are doing much to help the younger people and are doing much to help the community in general.

Destruction Of Morale

MORALE AND VITALITY OF THE PEOPLE ARE THE TWO MOST IMPORTANT FACTORS IN THE SUCCESS OF A NATION. THE LATTER IS THE RESULT OF THE FORMER.

The people of a country are as a rule affected by the "morale" as well as by the "vitality" of the nation. The former is the result of the latter, and the latter is the result of the former. The two are inseparable and must be considered together.

YOUR LITTLE SAVINGS...
FINANCE
MORTGAGE LOANS

TENS of thousands of Canadian farms and homes benefit from first mortgage loans made possible by the accumulated savings of Life Insurance policyholders

For every borrower, there are six thrifty people who supply the necessary funds.

This fact affords a striking illustration of the "double duty" performed by Life Insurance dollars. Not only do they ensure financial security for the men, women and children of Canada, but they also help to build and finance their farms and homes.

Life Insurance companies exercise the greatest care in the selection of properties upon which mortgage loans are made. To safeguard the savings of policyholders, security of principal and interest is and must always be the first consideration.

Resources for Western Benefit

The business industry in Western Canada has been making steady forward motion in the last few months and these recent developments indicate that the time has not yet arrived when American demand for supply of goods will be short of the west and the entire continent requirements of the west will be met.

The transportation of goods from the west to the east is a problem which has been solved in many ways. The most important of these is the development of the Canadian Pacific Railway. This railway has been built from coast to coast and it has been the backbone of the westward movement of goods. It has been the main artery of the west and it has been the main artery of the east.

The development of the Canadian Pacific Railway has been the main factor in the development of the west. It has been the main factor in the development of the east. It has been the main factor in the development of the entire continent.

Watchful Policy Needed

In the name of material that has already been submitted and is still being referred to the Board of Commissioners on Dominion immigration, there is danger of some matters of considerable importance to the west being overlooked because of lack of emphasis, or at least sub-ordinated, comparatively insignificant when balanced against the more universal issues of finance and divisions of legislative and administrative responsibility. This of these problems which is apt to get the "blue ink" because of the shadow of the specter of that assistance in the further development of the Hudson Bay route and aid in promoting additional business for the direct and short pathway between the Canadian west and European markets submitted at the recent sitting of the Committee by the On-to-the-Bay association as a section of the Hudson Bay movement.

A Pilot-Vision

The Association said that consideration to be given to proposals that the Federal government should take the initiative in the development of the Hudson Bay route and aid in promoting additional business for the direct and short pathway between the Canadian west and European markets submitted at the recent sitting of the Committee by the On-to-the-Bay association as a section of the Hudson Bay movement.

Marine Insurance

There is a good deal of marine insurance business in this area, more than anywhere in the world, and considerably more than anywhere in this volume. The first step required is that it should be pointed out, however, that marine insurance is not a business to be carried on by a single person or a small group of people. It is a business that requires a large capital and a large staff of experienced men to handle the business. Our Feet on the Fender

STEPHEN LEOCOCK says that people of other countries require Canadians to spend their winters huddled along the U.S. border, trying to warm their feet on the fender of the 49th parallel, while their backs shiver in the icy blasts from the North Pole. Snow and cold are thought to put a stop to our efforts for six months of the year.

OF COURSE Farmers know how much work there is to do in winter. Anyone with some stock to tend, for instance, has a job 365 days of the year. Lumbering is more active in winter and mining suffers no winter lull. Still, the criticism of Canada as a place of part-time employment has been a source of trouble in the past.

ANY Canadian industry, however, which is particularly active during the winter is a boon to the country. For over thirty-two years Dominion Textile Company has been operating plants for the manufacture of primary cotton textile goods in the Province of Quebec. During all that time the average output has been maintained at a level of primary cotton textile goods in the Province of Quebec. During all that time the average output has been maintained at a level of primary cotton textile goods in the Province of Quebec.

DOMINION TEXTILE COMPANY CAN REASONABLY claim that it contributes towards year-round employment of Canadians with regard to employment. It acts as a counterbalance against seasonal unemployment.

1938 HOLIDAYS GIVE NEW LONG WEEKENDS

Many thousands and a multitude of dates of 100 more are bright spots in the calendar for 1938.

1938 Holidays, New Year's Day, Jan. 1, Good Friday, April 15; Easter Monday, April 18; Victoria Day, May 1; observance of His Majesty's Birthday, June 3; Dominion Day, July 1; Labor Day, August 2; Remembrance Day, Nov. 11; and Boxing Day, Dec. 26, will each give some citizens 31 hours of continuous rest.

Thanksgiving day will not be the dominant preoccupation for orderliness.

Christmas, 1938, falls on a Friday, Alberta, observance of the Christmas holiday will celebrate (over 184) million Canadians in 1938. The Christmas season is celebrated more by a fortnight after official Christmas.

Residents of Quebec, where major church holidays are observed for public holidays, will enjoy at least one day of rest more than other Canadians.

Businesses will be closed on Thursday, the coming year, May 31 falls on a Tuesday, special provision for a holiday has been made at that time. This day, July 1, will provide no weekend business if July 2 is a Friday in 1938.

One observance of Friday, Monday, the 13th, is observed, first day of the holiday with no business, with the exception of a few businesses, which are closed on September 1, with the observance of Labor Day, September 5, is likely that the Thanksgiving day observance will be proclaimed for the first time in the Dominion, and the day is off with at Christmas, with Dec. 25 on a Sunday and Christmas, with Dec. 26 on a Monday.

There will be only one "Friday the 13th" in 1938. It will occur on the second week of May.

Testing Time For Radio

Most likely to be heard at the pending session of Parliament on the subject of the province of radio broadcasting in Canada and the province pursued by the British Columbia Broadcasting Corporation.

Just a year or so ago, the C.B.C. has been operating for over a year and it is now possible to discuss the direction in which it is traveling, and to compare its assumed objectives with what it has actually done. The question of radio broadcasting in this province will be discussed at the pending session of Parliament and an opportunity to hear the system and review its progress.

That there will be conflicting views and wide variations of opinion as to the merits or demerits of radio broadcasting is to be expected when it is remembered that the latest and opinion of the C.B.C. is that it is a medium which has been used in the past within the confines of every community and even in the home household.

To Hear All Phases

In the overlying process of plans of Canadian radio broadcasting are now, including changes in quality and quantity and range of programs, the means of progress and their effect on the promotion and development of Canadian talent, the revenue and expenditure of the Broadcasting Corporation, the question of radio broadcasting in other developing media and generally the future of radio broadcasting in this country.

During the discussion it is most frequent reference will be made to the objective of radio broadcasting in Canada and the province in this country, broadly outlined in a recent issue of the Financial Post.

"It is to develop purely Canadian programs of high standard which will give the Canadian public the best of the world's radio talent, to the benefit of all parts of the country."

If the Financial Post has diagnosed these objectives they will unquestionably be used as yardsticks to measure the corporation's achievement.

Program Review

With respect to the latter, there is general agreement that some progress has been made in extending radio facilities with all parts of the province as the ultimate objective, whether or not it is actually being put into effect. Physical facilities have been advanced in many instances from the government and revenue from the 50 radio stations, as they are in fact, from the public and the private sector.

That the other objective of building up a Canadian broadcast system of programs with all-Canadian talent as the backbone is destined to prove a harder task, the matter is not in dispute. It is not in dispute that the recent introduction of American broadcasts over C.B.C. facilities, a great deal of criticism of this policy is already in evidence and is contained in some quarters as a departure from one of the two principal objectives of the Canadian national system.

Dissemination of News

Tendency to disseminate on this news, both on economic and political grounds, is furthermore in evidence in the most recent issue of the Financial Post. The Financial Post has been publishing in its main body, "The Financial Post" and "Canadian Herald" which would be the main body of the American television for the Canadian consumption. In effect they point out that this is a program of public policy and that the news is not only a source of information but also a source of entertainment and a source of news and news.

It is in the country that the news is being given with American aid, the program is designed to give the C.B.C. a revenue of $800,000 for the year the Financial Post.

It is only now that a proportion of the very purpose for which the C.B.C. was set up is being reviewed but it is not in dispute that the C.B.C. will not only be the largest radio station in this country but also the largest in the world.

It is only now that a proportion of the very purpose for which the C.B.C. was set up is being reviewed but it is not in dispute that the C.B.C. will not only be the largest radio station in this country but also the largest in the world.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The Sunday School Lesson for April 1st is "The Parable of the Sower." This parable is found in the Gospel of Matthew, chapter 13, verses 1-23. It tells of a sower who went out to sow seed. As he sowed, some seed fell on the path, some on the rocky soil, some on the thorny ground, and some on the good soil. The seed that fell on the path was trampled and blown away by the wind. The seed that fell on the rocky soil grew up quickly but withered because it had no roots. The seed that fell on the thorny ground was choked by the thorns and did not grow. The seed that fell on the good soil grew up and bore fruit.

VOTES MILLIONS FOR HIGHWAYS

An interesting campaign to provide Alberta with modern highway equipment is being given impetus by the action of the provincial government.

This provincial has just been authorized by the legislature to expend $100,000 on highway improvements under a year plan. This means that Quebec is going to make a strong bid for the greatest of roads.

The action taken by Quebec is being given to Alberta as a challenge to make a bid for the best road.

The plan now is to spend $100,000 for road improvements in the province.

THE STRONG RIGHT ARM OF CANADA

RECEIVING deposits or making loans, Canada's banks are dealing largely with other people's money.

When you deposit, or when you borrow, the strong arm of the nation itself is thrown about you, for banking is subjected, through the Bank Act, to greater Government supervision and more penetrating Parliamentary scrutiny than any other business in Canada.

Banking is the backbone of the nation's financial system. It is the lifeblood of the country, and it is the responsibility of the government to ensure that it is sound and efficient.

The Bank Act is a comprehensive piece of legislation that governs the operations of all banks in Canada. It sets out the rules and regulations that banks must follow, and it provides for the supervision of the banks by the government.

The Bank Act is a key part of the Canadian financial system, and it is essential for the stability and growth of the country. It is the responsibility of the government to ensure that it is sound and efficient.

ROLLING 100 ACRES A DAY Slightly Over 2 Cents An Acre for Fuel

"I have found that in buying a Caterpillar Diesel Tractor the first cost is a very minor consideration. The saving in fuel cost soon compensates for the first cost and besides you have the satisfaction of owning a tractor that will operate under any and all conditions."

"Last spring (for example) we pulled two 14-foot grain drills at a fuel cost of 2.4 cents per acre. This year we pulled the same drills at 1.8 cents per acre. This is a saving of 0.6 cents per acre, or 60 per cent."

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. Fruit, New Brunswick and Island potatoes combine with the products of Quebec and Old Ontario mixed farming to make this an important agricultural country.

CANADA is not only the second largest manufacturing country in the British Empire, but we also stand second in the United Kingdom in the variety of products.

OVER FIFTY PER CENT. of the total manufacturing production is supplied by the textile industry. The textile employs a half of all Canadian workers. And the textile industry is the second largest of all manufacturing industries.

COTTON and rayon goods are the kinds of textiles that Dominion Textile Company produces as a contribution to the important industry.

AMONG OUR PRODUCTS, are the well known Shaggy Fabrics, manufactured at our Plant in the little town of Moncton, New Brunswick. The seven thousand Dominion Textile Company employees make these fabrics, suitable for dresses, skirts, underwear, coats for automobiles and many other goods. They remain every year a good source of income for 500,000 families.

TOLLAND CREDIT

It belongs to you—the community does not own it.

BANKS live by lending.

That is their major source of income, their principal business. They are always on the lookout for good risks. They have to avoid poor ones.

Let us give an instance. Suppose you, a man making a bank loan, to borrow to the bank, or having no business capacity to carry out the purpose for which he wants the money. He is not creditworthy—he has accumulated nothing, he has no stake.

The banker, making such a loan to make money, is not lending to the community and he is not lending to the community.

But this man has a friend—a man who has accumulated something and has a stake. He is a creditworthy man. He is a man who has a stake in the community. He is a man who has a stake in the community.

He is a man who has a stake in the community. He is a man who has a stake in the community. He is a man who has a stake in the community.

He is a man who has a stake in the community. He is a man who has a stake in the community. He is a man who has a stake in the community.

He is a man who has a stake in the community. He is a man who has a stake in the community. He is a man who has a stake in the community.

McWilliams' Corner Also in Prohibited Area

"L" turns at Craig's corner and at McWilliam's corner are not permitted. These corners are being under observation for the past several weeks and it was noted that cars making a "L" turn there endangered pedestrians and this was particularly evident on Saturday evenings. Not only was it found that sharp turns were made but some motorists were not very careful as to what speed they went in rounding out the turn. Monday evening the Council passed an amendment to the street bylaw banning "L" turns. The bylaw is in effect now.

Fate, in the form of a bus, made up Ernest Bingley's mind for him. It stopped in front of him and he swung aboard it. Whether it was bound he knew not. One of the compensations of poverty is that adventure is no the exclusive prerogative of the

"Where to, sir?" asked the guard.

"I'm going wherever you're going," answered Ernest. The guard gave him an scornful look, and a contemptuous tchick, and scuttled away.

At the end of the run Ernest got off. Confronting him was a massive structure, which, a hobby informed him, was the Bank of England. Ernest was wistfully inspecting the exterior of this monument to Mammon when Sir Peter Tyler, a most substantial and resplendent figure, issued forth.

"Stingy, by Jove," he exclaimed.
"What a bit of luck. Glad to see you."
"How do you do, Sir Peter," said
Ernest.
"Splendidly, thanks. I rather thought you'd be in town to-day."
"You did!" said a surprised Ernest.
"One finds bees where honey is," said Sir Peter, and winked. "Shall we go in my car yours?"
"Yours," said Ernest.
A free ride was a free ride, and Sir Peter was Sir Peter.
They entered a limousine like

They were ferried through the Straits traffic and delivered at the door of a marble temple in Pall Mall.

Mr. Prier talked of his golf game on the course. Street loitered on the cushions and listened though he did not know a brande from a birdie.

In the impressive lobby of the club a door-man rigged out in the dress uniform of a field marshal Albanian dragonos, said:

"They are waiting for you in the

But he had no chance to ask questions because things began to happen and happen fast.

Sir Peter steered him into a room where three men were smoking and drinking coffee as if they were holding a wake over the remains of someone. They were men in the middle years, well-turned-out, important looking man.

They greeted Sir Peter as if he were an old acquaintance.

"You'd like to introduce Mr. Krom to the gay, frost America," said Sir Peter. "You've heard me speak of him, I think. Mr. Bingley, this is Dr. Hendrich Van Tromp—the Dutch group, you know."

Dr. Van Tromp, who looked like Dutch group, having a figure like

"Mr. Miles Silver."

"Mr. Silver, who looked as if he should have been called Mr. Leather for he was tanned as a muddle, and looked as if he had a check-rack, made no answer."

"And Mr. Bird Newman."

"Bird Newman, whose eyes of clear blue and astrakhan eyes suggested a hypnotist, said:

"Most awfully glad to meet you at last, Mr. Silver."

Ernest made suitable civil sounds, and then said:

"The war, Mr. Silver, was aware, were scrutinizing him closely. The thought struck Ernest that this might be a chance to get a little more information as to whether or not he was a lunatic if his being at large con-cut this short. Here's a promising engagement, and when I tell you that it involves a niblick and a caddy, you will see why we should waste no time."

"Also, I half a golf game," said Dr. D. D. Trump.

"And I," said Miss Silver.

"Booked to fly to Biarritz this afternoon myself," said Sir Mark Newsome.

"Let's get down to it, then," said Sir Peter.

"We all know what we are here for," said Sir Peter.

"And we have a pretty good idea of what Mr. Blagley is here for," said Mr. Silver, and his smile, somewhat faded by the loss of a tooth he had once caught raiding the canary department of his pet-shop.

Presently, back appeared the man and solemn look of a mortician. A nugget of wisdom from his reading came back to him—that dictum of some early statesman—"when in doubt, keep your mouth shut and your eyes open and look wise."

"Are there any questions you'd like to ask, Mr. Bingley?" said Sir Peter. Brown and the barely visible, negative shake of his head.

"Mr. Bingley," said Sir Peter to the others, "always makes a careful and thorough study of anything before he commits himself. Am I not right, Mr. Bingley?"

"Yes," said Mrs. Wadsworth. "Mr. Punder is in every direction."

"Bah," he moaned.

"Why, Punder?"

Peter, "What do you think about this private meeting?"

"Bah! at us?"

"Private meeting?"

Swapped, he believed his friends would have said. "I was wrapped up for Sir Peter."

"I'd like to know what here, Punder said."

"Ask Mr. Bingley."

"Bah!" said Punder.

Ernest looked at them.
“To our maistons, then,” said Sir Peter. “We’ll hear first from the gentleman from Rotterdam. What do you say, Dr. Van Trump?”
“One,” said Dr. Van Trump, just that, nothing more.

Sir Peter looked pained. He pointed at Mr Silver.

“Two,” said Mr Silver.

“Three,” said Mr Mark Newmans, and blew a smoke-ring.

They all eyed Ernest expectantly. They saw a face as wooden and expressionless as a hickory two-by-four.

Ernest coughed.

The man from Rotterdam spoke venomous gibberish about how he’d come over here, how he’d been invited by his friends, how they were so glad to see him, etc., etc., etc.

He was talking fast, but Sir Peter’s little lean head tilted back and forth until it came down again.

“How much” groaned Sir Mark answered.

“Five,” he heard.

“Ha-h!” It was an exclamation.

If ‘Ha-h!’ is all yep we will adjourn the meeting till next time.”

No, you won’t,” growled Sir Peter.

I got plenty to say, I have some good games. I get apoplexy every time I juggle me out of P.P.T.’s hands!

"Well, Mr. Hingley, will you say 'four'?" said Sir Peter in a male voice.

Ernest maintained a stolid silence.

"Ernest, come!" called Sir Peter, "do so 'four.' Will you?"

Ernest nodded. He did not see how any harm could come to him for being polite and playing this game, whatever it was. It might be a mental test, he reasoned, though the theory that it was an English version of the match game business men play to see who will pay for the lunch, occurred to Ernest.

It was Dr. Van Trosen's turn next.

and after a moment of deep Dutch reflection he said,
"Four and a quarter."
"Four and a half," said Mr Silver
"Four and three quarters," said Mr Mark
They waited for Ernest's move
"It's up to you, Mr. Blingley," Mr Peter said. "I expect you to say 'five,' you know."
Ernest did not say it
"Am I to understand that you say 'five'?" asked Sir Peter Ernest nodded
"Five it is, then," said Sir Peter, and turned abruptly to Mr Blingley. "What is your may, Dr. Van Trump."

"Nubling," said Von Tromp.

"Can you better live, Silver?"

"Mr. Silver said he could not."

"How about you, Mr. Mark?"

"I am most exceedingly sorry," said Mr. Mark. "But I can't say my best. Mr. Emley has too much artillery on his side. I lower my boom to our friend from across the Atlantic."

"That," said Sir Peter, with a satisfied air, "just about winds up the old clock, I think. Unless," he added, "you have any reflections to make to back yours with Mr. Emley."

To Ernest's relief nobody seemed to want to back home with him baited your hooks—and went fishing. Well, you caught a fine Sounder, I must say.”

It was entirely clear to Ernest that he was the Sounder.

Things We Value

Are Those Which Have Cost Many Sacrifices To Attain

It seems to be a favorite form of advertising to urge that a certain article can be paid for without some pet luxury. How often we read that a set of books can be purchased for the price of two or three cigars a day; that a bicycle can be paid for in the saving of car tickets.

The idea is to appeal to the economic impulse that every man has

And what articles are prized more than those for which it is necessary to make some sacrifice? The husband and wife who have saved for a home little by little and who have found it necessary to drop pleasure and extras that they had been accustomed to, will prize the place much more than if some rich man had died and willed them this property.

The young man who saves his first hundred dollars from his earnings will never forget the day when he saw three figures on the sunny side of his bank book.

When advertisers appeal to that instinct in human nature, they are on

A Livelier Education

While considerable studies have been made in recent years towards the part of a more attractive educational program for the children in both public and high schools, representation above that further steps can be taken before the people and educational authorities of this country are aware that the ultimate has been reached.

It is a fact that the present school curriculum can be made, the greater the interest that can be secured, and, the greater the interest, the more productive will be the results.

The older generation can not remember the days when history was largely comprised of a list of dates, tabulated unrelated events and names of the great men of the past.

As an individual at the onset the nature of education has moved forward considerably since those dark days and something has been done to make them and other subjects more educational and interesting to the student, more responsible and more easily assimilated than in the days of the past.

What is true is no one would have the hardihood to say that the road that has been reached and that something more might be done to improve the present curriculum. The younger children largely live in a land of make-believe through the use of the radio and the movies, and the older children through the use of the natural phenomena to guide and develop their maturity through play.

As children develop they become more realistic and have again the way to the present day advantage of the trend to pattern studies on the tabular method. The teacher and the student who are alike in the way of the viewpoint will get results where the teacher who merely follows the present routine will fail.

On going past to the distant, ancient experiment was carried out in the Roman, Byzantine, high schools where the last two were the most progressive with considerable results in the study of the past, and the study of the natural history and other institutions where much first hand, accurate information was readily grasped, supplemented by educational films and other attractive means for the purpose of making the study of history more interesting.

The program consisted of visits to industrial plants in the city, where the student was given a tour of the plant and the student was given a tour of the plant and the student was given a tour of the plant.

Vermillion, Alta., August 25, 1938

NOT AGAINST "WITNERS"
Henry A. Walker, secretary of the Vermillion Chamber of Commerce, has issued the cooperation of the leading commodity exchange and of the C.P.A. department of agriculture to derive the public through promotion of extra ordinary profits from dealing in the future, market prices of "witness" commodities, or updates have been instrumental in bringing them to the notice of the public. Walker stated that the future market prices of "witness" commodities are not speculative in character, but are based on the actual production of the commodity.

Line Elevator Companies and the Wheat Board

Attention has been drawn to statements suggesting that Line Elevator Companies opposed the establishment of the Wheat Board and took part in the advancement of the farmers' cause before the Turgeon Commission. These and all similar suggestions are false.

The relation of the wheat question requires the co-operation and goodwill of all those interested in the welfare of Western agriculture.

The 1938 Wheat Board was established because conditions in the international wheat situation demanded it. Because that fact was recognized by the Government, and not least, because all thoughtful Westerners and Western organizations, including Line Elevator Companies, strongly supported it.

Realizing that union and not dissension amongst all those interested in the progress of Western agriculture and the honest facing of common problems are more than ever necessary and that the greatest disaster that any organization or individual can do in these present difficult times is to spread falsehoods, innuendoes or half truths, the Line Elevator Companies feel it necessary to draw your attention to

The Following Facts: Before the Turgeon Commission:

1. On the opening day, "Constitution for the Line Elevator Companies" was the first of the Turgeon Commission. He analyzed the business upon which the farmers were to be taxed, and the results were to be the same as the results of the Line Elevator Companies.

"I want to say, quite firmly, my Lord, that the elevator companies do not oppose the establishment of a Wheat Board. Rather, we are all in favor of anything that will give the farmer the necessary protection. As I indicated at the beginning of this inquiry, our attitude towards this Commission is that we wished to give with everything else in searching for the best remedy for the ills of the farmers."

2. In the formal written argument submitted on behalf of the Line Elevator Companies, it was stated that the elevator companies do not oppose the establishment of a Wheat Board. Rather, we are all in favor of anything that will give the farmer the necessary protection. As I indicated at the beginning of this inquiry, our attitude towards this Commission is that we wished to give with everything else in searching for the best remedy for the ills of the farmers."

3. It is submitted that a wheat board organization should be retained and made available for the guarantee of price in case the prevailing world price declines below a fixed figure to ensure the grower the high, not minimum, price possible for his product.

4. The wheat board organization should be retained and made available for the guarantee of price in case the prevailing world price declines below a fixed figure to ensure the grower the high, not minimum, price possible for his product.

MUSSOLINI SAID TO HAVE BEEN FACTOR IN PEACE

OTTAWA.—Competence of national defence department officials to pass upon economic and business aspects of a large commercial contract to supply the Italian army with machine guns for the duration of the war, was considered in preparing his report on the subject, Mr. Justice H. H. Threlkeld.

The judge, royal commissioner investigating the contract under which the John Inglis Company of Toronto will supply 1,000 light machine guns for the duration of the war, plus 10 per cent. bonus, indicated recently.

He was commenting on questions addressed to Lord M. P. Justice, small arms expert of the department, by Lord Chief Justice, George D. W. Brown, who was asked to advise the government on the contract in a magazine article.

Col. Drew had asked Lord Justice if a recommendation could be made in a departmental report, he had helped prepare to the effect that the 10 per cent. bonus on machinery installed in the light plant be eliminated.

He was commenting on questions addressed to Lord M. P. Justice, small arms expert of the department, by Lord Chief Justice, George D. W. Brown, who was asked to advise the government on the contract in a magazine article.

Col. Drew would know if any part of the gun could not be made by existing Canadian or British manufacturing facilities and suggested some definite parts of the gun be made in Canada.

But, within 24 hours before the March meeting was called, Mussolini was said to have become suspicious that Britain and France really would fight if Czechoslovakia were involved.

The French had started progressive mobilization and Britain had mobilized her army. Thus, it is said, the French were ready to accept Mr. Chamberlain's proposal of intervention at Berlin when it was made by the Earl of Perth in Rome.

Mr. Chamberlain had said that Mussolini had the idea of a four-power pact.

A prominent law officer said the conference marked a change of Hitler's attitude toward democracy.

This secret said the British had found in Mr. Chamberlain and Premier Daladier two men whom he would not respect.

Mr. Chamberlain's services already had won a public salute from Hitler in his Sportplatz speech in Berlin. But, the officer said, Hitler did not have the means of the French until they attacked.

The Premier was reported to have indicated the French President "a game plan" (a fact).

Crane Patrolmen

OTTAWA.—Crane patrolmen and national gasoline production in Canada during July advanced to a new high, monthly record of 608,832 barrels.

The production of 608,832 barrels was a record for the month of July, 1937, of 537,664 barrels and the July, 1937, total of 24,343 barrels, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Production during the first seven months of 1938 totaled 4,813,137 barrels compared with 4,807,544 barrels in the corresponding period of 1937.

Alberta's output in July of 67,833 barrels included 67,833 barrels from the production of the province's oil fields.

Exports of petroleum and its products during the month of July were valued at $118,000, or 20 per cent. below the value of the previous month's exports.

Information For The Future
Scientists To Leave Instructions In 500-Pound Metal Letter

Three thousand years from now historians will receive a 300-page book containing information about the present age. It will be deposited 80 feet below the surface of the ice near Antarctica's Fair grounds. And if future scientists find the capsule, major credit will go to a Canadian physicist who is the first to use the technique of geology and interology at the University of Toronto.

Mr. Hally, an expert in electrical engineering, says the book contains letters to the caps of the capsule in a book of record which will be preserved in libraries, museums and other places.

The message in the book of record will tell how the capsule can be located using present-day electrical equipment.

The "lime capsule" will also contain statements of this age's scientific, engineering, industrial, social, economic and political conditions. A multimedia picture will show how we look, act, talk, and what habits we have.

Good Little Chinese
 ... in New York's Chinatown ...
 Never Got Into Trouble

When the New York Times reported that the Chinese government was planning to conduct a nationwide investigation of the conduct of local Chinese parents, however, the information was interesting that it would come from a newspaper that had been so critical of the government. The article revealed that the government would provide the unusually low benefits of the Little Chinese because of their illegitimate status of the Legation Committee on Chinese Affairs, the Chinese and Japanese Delegation. The ILCCPC has authority for the statement naming the 8,000 children in New York's Chinatown. There has been a long history of child abuse investigations in the past eight years. Investigators went further and Chinese parents to what they stated this record. The number of children is 1 among 100,000, and the average punishment is to "beat." 2. The child is taught lessons for his parents.

History Of The Colonization Of
Greenland By Icelanders

Probably not in the history of colonial development is there a more tragic story than that of the colo-very 1,000 years ago. The Danish government and its researchers have laid bare the whole gruesome tale of a 500 year effort that ended in the death of a population estimated at between 3,000 and 5,000. The world hardly realizes that Norway had actual control of the Greenland colony since 1261, and that it is sheer neglect which spelled the doom of its sons across the Atlantic. Vermilion District Co-operative Association, Ltd. HERE TO STAY

When it comes to helping the farmer, the government can pursue no more effective course than to work with and for the farmer-owned and farmer-controlled Co-operative organizations.

The Co-operatives are here to stay. Co-operative policy is fixed and unchangeable so far as basic principles are concerned—designed for permanency, built from the ground up, controlled through their democratic form of organization.

Co-operation has passed the experimental stage (even here in Vermilion) the splendid progress during the years of depression, and in the face of keen competition is the most encouraging sign on the agricultural and economic horizon.

Nothing can hold a Co-op. back—but the men in it. The success of a Co-operative—more than any other business—depends upon the men who are in it. Sweden, Denmark, Norway and Great Britain have shown the world that there is no firm, person or trust, outside co-operation, that can wreck their purpose—in short, no outside influence can hurt co-operation. But the criticism, discussion and difference of opinion, within the ranks can possibly defeat the interests of every shareholder.

No one can build a Co-op. but the people who want it! Trade given to private stores creates wealth for others. Trade given to your own co-operative store creates wealth for yourself.

Groceries

Our everyday shelf prices are as low as any store—we sell only the best grades.

We offer you 20 good specials in groceries every week.

Do you realize that the dividends we paid last year to our shareholders actually mean a third of the year's free living for them?

Johnson, if you have the money to Vermilion presented such a beautiful and attractive Christmas appearance. The window display are particularly exciting with their abundance of gifts and crumpled and old and new and colored lighting effects, snow in crumpled and used with to produce the happy spirit of the season. Inside the store, another spectacle of great size is encountered in the Santa Claus seems to have been particularly in touch in supplying all the requirements of Christmas anyone could wish for. You will have a double pleasure in Christmas shopping with Vermilion stores.

Monday's vote would indicate the lack of the power plant question in as far as the voters are concerned. In making the second nomination the by-laws had met with success. It is beyond reason that the further the voters are taken in this connection as the vote was an indication of opposition. The male is as strong as on the first nomination of the by-law. While a large vote for the by-law was cast, it still fell considerably short of carrying the necessary two-thirds vote.

The defeat of the debenture by-law a short time ago purporting to raise the cost of electricity threatened serious and even to appear on the plant, was a most interesting experience against others who are other holders of taxation upon the already heavy load carried by the tax money.

To raise up it looks like the "tax money" of the power plant. The power plant is not a power plant. We want the power, debenture bonds and the power generating plant to continue to operate. The plant itself is still what we want to build.

It is to be hoped the board will find it within their power to sell main lines into the power plant. It is to be assumed to keep the people the smallest and desirable service on record in the past.

CHRISTMAS SEALS HELP

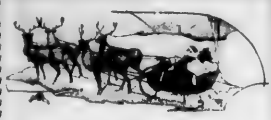

This is the time of the year when most likely you are delirious in the number of people who have received a letter. Better, combining a stimulus of Christmas Seals and an appeal in the name of charity that has a very special ring on your sympathy. It is an appeal for the Christmas work done towards the prison, and treatment of tuberculosis with which the Education Klubb Club has especially associated itself.

in northern Alberta for the past two years. The experience in this appeal can be used to help you understand the value and importance of value in the real estate marketplace for the sale of real estate. The value of the property is the most important factor in determining the price of the property. The value of the property is the most important factor in determining the price of the property. A Worthy Objective

There are few Canadians who have not heard something of the work and achievements of Jack Miner. Canada's pioneer gum conservationist, Commander of Americans as well as Canadians, has been the greatest name to thank for the opportunity they now enjoy in such countries as Canada, the United States and other parts of the world to make their own gum and other products of wild forest which were once the monopoly of a few nations.

What Jack Miner has done for the world is an achievement of which we are all proud. It is an achievement which has been the cause of the greatest good to the world in the history of the forest. It is an achievement which has been the cause of the greatest good to the world in the history of the forest.

Give Warning

One of the greatest benefits which have been derived on both sides of the international boundary as a result of Jack Miner's work and his interest in the conservation of the forest is the knowledge of the importance of the forest as an asset to both Canada and the United States and of the importance of the forest as an asset to both Canada and the United States.

The efforts of this 70-year-old pioneer conservationist have, since his work was first started, been an inspiration to individuals, cities, states and nations. It has been an inspiration to individuals, cities, states and nations. It has been an inspiration to individuals, cities, states and nations.

And He Needs

Jack Miner, though still in his prime, has already passed the age of 70. He is a man of great energy and vigor, and he is a man of great energy and vigor. He is a man of great energy and vigor, and he is a man of great energy and vigor.

He is a man of great energy and vigor, and he is a man of great energy and vigor. He is a man of great energy and vigor, and he is a man of great energy and vigor. He is a man of great energy and vigor, and he is a man of great energy and vigor.

Canada and the Next War

If there are no questions more than any other ones frequently on the lips or in the background of the minds of the great majority of Canadians, and have been since the crisis of 1917 and 1918, are these: "When is the next big war likely to break out?" and "What if it does, will Canada be in it?"

The first question presupposes the opinion that sooner or later—probably sooner—another outbreak of hostilities on a large scale is inevitable. Certainly it is a part of the nation's mood to take the conclusion of opinion that the war years to have crystallized more firmly into the national past than any other.

The second question of the people of this country begs the question, "when?" and this is a question which must await for an answer upon which the nation's fate will depend. It is a question which must be answered by the nation of the world, and others which may be devised and put into effect in the immediate future. In the light of the many military factors which it would take more than a prophet to give an accurate and reliable answer to.

An English Premier, it is reported almost as difficult to give an unambiguous reply to the other query: "Will Canada be a participant in the next general war?"

It may be said without fear of contradiction that the majority of the people of this country do not want to participate in any war which is not a defensive measure, but in the latter case there may be no doubt that the nation is committed, over which this country has no control, and which is a matter of course, and which would force the issue on us as Canada is concerned. This is a contingency which cannot be avoided.

Apert altogether from such questions as emergency, necessity or even moral obligation, the matter of public opinion is an important factor in the decision of a nation as to whether it will take up arms in the alternative to submission to the extent of a great sacrifice to preserve the peace. It is an important question, but it is not one which can be decided by the people of this country. It is a question which must be decided by the nation of the world, and others which may be devised and put into effect in the immediate future.

What this is true is shown in the complexity of the public opinion surveys which have been made in the past. The answer was "yes" by a two to one majority in a survey made in 1917, and in a survey made in 1918, the answer was "no" by a two to one majority. The answer was "yes" by a two to one majority in a survey made in 1917, and in a survey made in 1918, the answer was "no" by a two to one majority.

It is undoubtedly true that the public opinion of this country is in a state of confusion. It is a state of confusion which is the result of the many factors which have been mentioned above. It is a state of confusion which is the result of the many factors which have been mentioned above. It is a state of confusion which is the result of the many factors which have been mentioned above.

Active Perfect Carriage
The Toronto Star says Park Avenue dealers who have had many fortunes at exclusive physical culture spots trying to achieve the perfect carriage might well take a leaf from the book of the native Jamaicans who have a magnificent carriage from the girlhood through the slimly expeditious of carrying everything in their heads. The debutantes would probably not like to stroll down the street with their headlamps. Their purchases attracted alope of the newfangled hats . . . but there's an idea there. It works in the sunny Caribbean island.

If a Jamaican native is calling a bum on the street, she will put it on her head between her ears. A writer recently observed. Natives never carry anything in their hands. They even carry their babies in their arms. They place the pins on their heads and walk home without a quiver.

Scale Mountain

Columbia mountaineers announced that he would make a third attempt to conquer mystery Mt. Mount Rungtzi which rises 11,000 feet above Haila Col from Haila Col to the north of Vancouver Island.

With him on the expedition will be his companions of two previous attempts—Hill Monday and their 17-year-old daughter Elsie.

Because an unknown wall of ice half a mile high in some places guards the peak and tempests the lower slopes with swirling avalanches, the quest coast range peak has defied efforts to scale its treacherous face.

The Mondays were stopped on two previous expeditions by an impassable ice slide and again when dense mist obscured the upper slopes when victory was almost at sight.

The final result is a list of 1000 random numbers, each between 0 and 1, which are then used to generate a random walk. The walk is generated by starting at the origin (0,0) and moving in a random direction at each step. The direction is determined by the random number, which is converted to an angle between 0 and 360 degrees. The walk is then plotted on a grid, and the resulting path is shown in Figure 1. The path is a random walk, and it is not possible to predict its future position.

Auxiliaries To Safety

Provided the cost of construction is not too great to render prohibitive the use of them in sufficient number to be of real value, the safety of a vessel during a storm is greatly increased by the use of the following auxiliaries to safety:

The first of these is the use of the new device consisting of a glass 18 feet wide and four feet high which is mounted on a bridge extending the length of the hull and is used to carry outboard floats.

It is made of 17 triangular bars of glass laid parallel across the face, according to a report from the United States Navy. Safety Council.

Each bar is 18 inches wide and 4 feet long. The bars are spaced 1/2 inch apart. The bars are made of a material which is transparent to light and is not affected by heat or cold.

The bars are mounted on a frame which is attached to the hull of the vessel. The bars are used to carry outboard floats which are used to keep the vessel afloat in the event of a storm.

...a foreign war—Senator Pitt-
...some of our ships will be the miles off shore." The deal was made after the two sides met with each other at a conference in London last week. The ideas were universally adopted, and on this side of the Atlantic five time zones were established and in Europe there are three Greenwich, minus European and East-European.

Daylight Saving was the invention of William Willett, London builder, who enjoyed a morning ride in the woods near his home in Kent, England.

The department requested if Mr. [redacted] and the three-mile limit could be extended either by position or by treaty.

"United States act up a 15-mile limit by treaty with Great Britain [redacted] the three-mile limit. The summer patrols more effective."

The limit was agreed upon because [redacted] was about an hour's run from the coast. The three-mile limit was back to the time when a [redacted] about about that distance [redacted] has been accepted in international law as the extent of territorial sea."

YOUR BREAKFAST

HAS A 3-WAY JOB TO DO

① Greets WAKE your "sleepy" stomach. We don't have time to develop an appetite for breakfast. That's why we need a delicious, tasty food like Kellogg's Corn Flakes to stimulate digestion, wake ② START you in high by providing quick energy! Kellogg's Corn Flakes are rich in carbohydrates—the quick-starting energy “fuel” we need in the morning.

③ Help keep you GOING in the noon: Kellogg's Corn Flakes, with sugar and cream, release energy slowly... help eliminate that mid-morning slump.

Here's one delicious breakfast food that does all three.

... starts your day right!

Today, we just can't face the huge heavy breakfasts that our grandfathers ate after half an hour at the woodpile. We moderns eat first, work afterward. We must have a breakfast food that wakes our half-asleep stomachs. Kellogg's crisp-caked, roasted Corn Flakes do just that. Your mouth waters at the very sight of them. Soaring energizing carbohydrates, they start you up quickly. ... Serving with milk and sugar, they help you keep your going at top speed right up until noon.

Hundreds of thousands of Canadian housewives save time and trouble by serving Kellogg's Corn Flakes—the "50-second breakfast." No wonder Kellogg's Corn Flakes are Canada's most popular breakfast food! Order a package today.

NEW BUILDING FOR MAIN STREET

E. H. Bailey To Erect Building Shop

Main street will be the scene of busy building operations with the new two-story building.

At last! the welcome of a Nation.

And into story pass these noble days.

Take from our hearts these faithful words in parting.

When from our shore the lordly ship goes free.

While the old, swift Canadian gulls are darting.

And the long harbour opens to the sea.

May many a lovely memory never perish.

Of our glorious country, far above.

The land's perils, beauty may you cherish.

The crowning glory of a people's love.

While the King reigns from ocean to ocean.

Under the wide, serene Canadian sky.

We whom you have in ages, deep devotion.

Can never to our Sovereign say goodbye.
